Pete,

As we discussed at the Michigan State game, I am uncomfortable with the coordination of this event. We will do all that we need to make this a safe and successful event, but the lack of understanding of the rules by the organizers creates unnecessary and potentially complex challenges. Moving forward, if the same rules apply as they would for a BOR meeting, we should coordinate them as we would a BOR meeting until we have a better understanding of the environment we're working with.

Thanks,

Mark Bullock

Collin:

Does this apply to both Friday and Saturday? Only Saturday?

Subject: CIF Inaugural Event Public Attendance Update

Importance: High

All,

I would like to thank everyone for their excellent work and continued support of the Center's Inaugural Event. Luciano and I greatly appreciate everyone's efforts thus far.

With that said there has been an update regarding public participation in our upcoming event that will require increased flexibility, and due diligence from everyone involved.

We have been notified by the Board of Regents that we are required to allow members of the public into all the sessions at the Old Capitol, regardless of if they preregistered with us or not. This is to comply with the open meeting law/requirement.

These sessions are to be operated as an open meeting, just like the Board of Regents meetings in Des Moines or when they are here in Iowa City.

We already had plans to accept the public into our event for the Capstone, but now those plans need to be expanded to all portions of the event.

This update has different impacts at different levels of our event, from registration, to security, to police protection, etc., so I wanted to send out an email to all stakeholders to prepare their various team members for this change in our plan.

We do not anticipate any sizable participation from the public but this event will be noticed as legally required 24 hours in advanced on the Board of Regent's website.

Thank you for your continued support and flexibility on this matter,

Collin Sawyer
