Yes. Please ascertain what project he is working on, and we will get the appropriate resources allocated to him.

Thanks

Pete

Jeneane and Pete,

See below.

I am working with Luciano to offer two courses through University College next semester. However, I suspect this request is in relation to a project outside those courses. Our media team's primary role is to support online courses. Would Strategic Communication be in a position to assist Luciano?

Hi Andrew,

Luciano popped into Mark Hamilton's office this afternoon to say that he'd like to use our studios to record some videos later this week.

Mark brought this new request to me for review since it falls outside our typical scope. I'm happy to follow up directly with Luciano and learn more about his goals and determine a project timeline we are able to effectively support, but we're both also wondering whether this project may be better suited for strat comm folks.

Thoughts?
Susan
